

Wrestling with Gender Equity

By Royce Alger

As you guys have probably already figured out, my columns might be a little on the edge. I told Lanny when I agreed to write for his magazine that I wanted to entertain. It's the entertainment factor that is going to save this sport. Think about it. If we can incorporate more action and flare into wrestling in general, maybe we can cut into some of the WWF's wide spread fan base. Maybe add programs instead of dropping them. With the imminent threat of title nine, we all need to act. Although I really didn't want to turn things into a man vs. woman thing, I must stick up for my brethren. A vast amount of colleges are dropping wrestling programs in order to subsidize a woman's sport. I really
