

Wrestling Committee Makes Change to Overtime Procedures

A change in overtime procedures highlighted the NCAA Wrestling Committee's annual meeting. The committee, which serves as both a rules committee and the governing body for the sport's three division championships, decided to alter overtime rules, hoping to bring more fairness to the procedure.

"We hope this will be a positive change for the sport," said Curt Blake, athletics director at Rider College and chair of the committee.

In the new procedure, at the end of a tied regulation match, a one-minute sudden-victory period will be wrestled with both contestants in the neutral position. If no winner is determined at the end of the
