An old proverb says, "The next best thing to winning is losing. At least you've been in the race."

Congratulations to all participants in the Wrestling USA Magazine's 2004 Publication Contest. Each year provides unique and intense competition in each of the three main divisions--collegiate, high school and national wrestling.

The following information highlights each division.

It was the year of the underdog in the Collegiate Division in regard to the annuals. In 3rd place Oregon State jumped up from last years 9th position, 2nd place

Minnesota came up from 7th and the winner University of Michigan shot up from 10th place.

Another collegiate category worthy of highlighting is the poster category. Montana State University-Northern created a striking poster that would have competed well against a much larger field of
