

@ASUWrestling Earns Multiple All-Americans, Best Team Finish at NCAA's Since 2011

Recap | Retweet

ST. LOUIS – With their best finish as a team since 2011, the No. 9 Arizona State wrestling team finished 14th overall at the 2017 NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships. This weekend also marked the first time since 2011 the Sun Devils have had multiple All-Americans and medalists.

2017 marks the first time in two seasons ASU has had an All-American and the highest All-American finish for the team since Anthony Robles and Bubba Jenkins won national titles in 2011 (Levi Cooper was also an All-American the same season).

Tanner Hall and Zahid Valencia, each finishing third, become the 113th and 114th All-Americans in Sun Devil wrestling history and 14th and 15th third-place finishers, first since Eric Larkin in 2001.

Z. Valencia is ASU's second all-time All-American at 174 lbs., the highest finisher in the weight class, alongside Owen Curtis (4th) in 2003, while Hall joins a historic list of heavyweight All-Americans that includes Curley Culp, Dan Severn, and Cain Velasquez. He becomes the first Sun Devil heavyweight All-American since Velasquez in 2005 and 2006.

READ FULL RECAP ON THESUNDEVILS.COM

Mollie Hanke

Assistant Media Relations Director
Arizona State University
Swim/Dive, Wrestling, Golf(W), Triathlon, Lacrosse
O: (480) 965-6594
C: (859) 948-4472
mollie.hanke@asu.edu
thesundevils.com