Thirteen Kent State wrestlers took part in the Journeyman Collegiate Classic Sunday at Hudson Valley Community College in Troy, New York. The round robin pool formats for each weight class had most of the Golden Flashes competing in three matches on the day.

Sophomore Tim Rooney led the way for the Flashes going 3-0 in the 141-pound C Pool. Rooney won his first match by tech fall, 23-8 over Ben Billings of Castleton. He then topped Andrew Mehrholz of Virginia Tech 11-5 and Ben Brisman of Ithaca 7-2.

Redshirt freshman Lane Hinkle also went undefeated on the day. Competing in the 174-pound C Pool, Hinkle claimed wins over Army's Graham Ratermann (9-5) and Ithaca's Steven Rice (8-4). He also earned a forfeit victory in the final round.

Will Bardezbain, Anthony Tutolo, Chance Driscoll and Casey Sparkman all went up against the best competition in their weight classes as part of the A Pools. Opponents came from schools such as Oklahoma State and Lehigh. Bardezbain went 2-1.

True freshman Colin McCracken continued his strong opening weekend, going 3-1 in the 184-pound B Pool with two pins and a major decision. McCracken moved to 5-1 on the weekend.

Kent State (5-0) will be back in action for the third straight weekend Saturday, Nov. 18 at the Navy Classic.
