Lourdes Wrestling Adds Transfer Drew Torres

Lourdes University head coach Dock Kelly III has announced that Drew Torres is transferring to the school and will wrestle for the Gray Wolves this fall.

The Phoenix, Ariz. native competed at Arizona Christian University during his rookie season with the Firestorm, qualifying for the NAIA National Championships at 165 pounds.

“Andrew is an elite talent who we are excited about joining our wrestling program,” Kelly said. “His freestyle background and experience will benefit him tremendously and will make him an immediate contender for All-American status. He is a hard worker, and his impact will be instant once the season is underway.”

A product of Marcos de Niza High School, Torres was a three-time state placer, finishing as high as fifth in the state of Arizona. He two a two-time team Most Valuable Wrestler for the Padres and was a U.S. Open Greco All-American in 2018.

As a senior, Torres posted a 57-1 record and set the school record with 33 pins that season.

Upon arriving at Lourdes, Torres plans to major in psychology.
