MANHEIM, P.A. - Utah Valley wrestling had three named to the 2022-2023 National Wrestling Coaches Association (NWCA) Academic All-American Team on Friday afternoon. Demetrius Romero earned the honor for the fourth time in his career and is joined by teammates Cameron Haddock and Mahonri Rushton, who were both first-time selections.

"It's a great honor to achieve Academic All-American status for these student-athletes. It shows the character and discipline they have. They invest an incredible amount of time to their craft while staying focused on their academic and career pursuits. Hon, Cam, and D are all great examples of what we strive for with our student-athletes at UVU," said UVU head coach Greg Williams.

Overall, the NWCA selected 291 award recipients from 73 different schools. The award combines the academic success and dedication to wrestling by each student-athlete.

As a team, the Wolverines finished in the Top 30, at No. 28, with a combined GPA of 3.3044. The GPA was good enough to finish fourth in the Big 12. UVU was joined by conference foes, Northern Iowa, North Dakota State, South Dakota State, and California Baptist.

Since being post-season eligible in 2009-2010, UVU has been in the Top 10 the last five years and in the top 10 nine times.
